Dedication

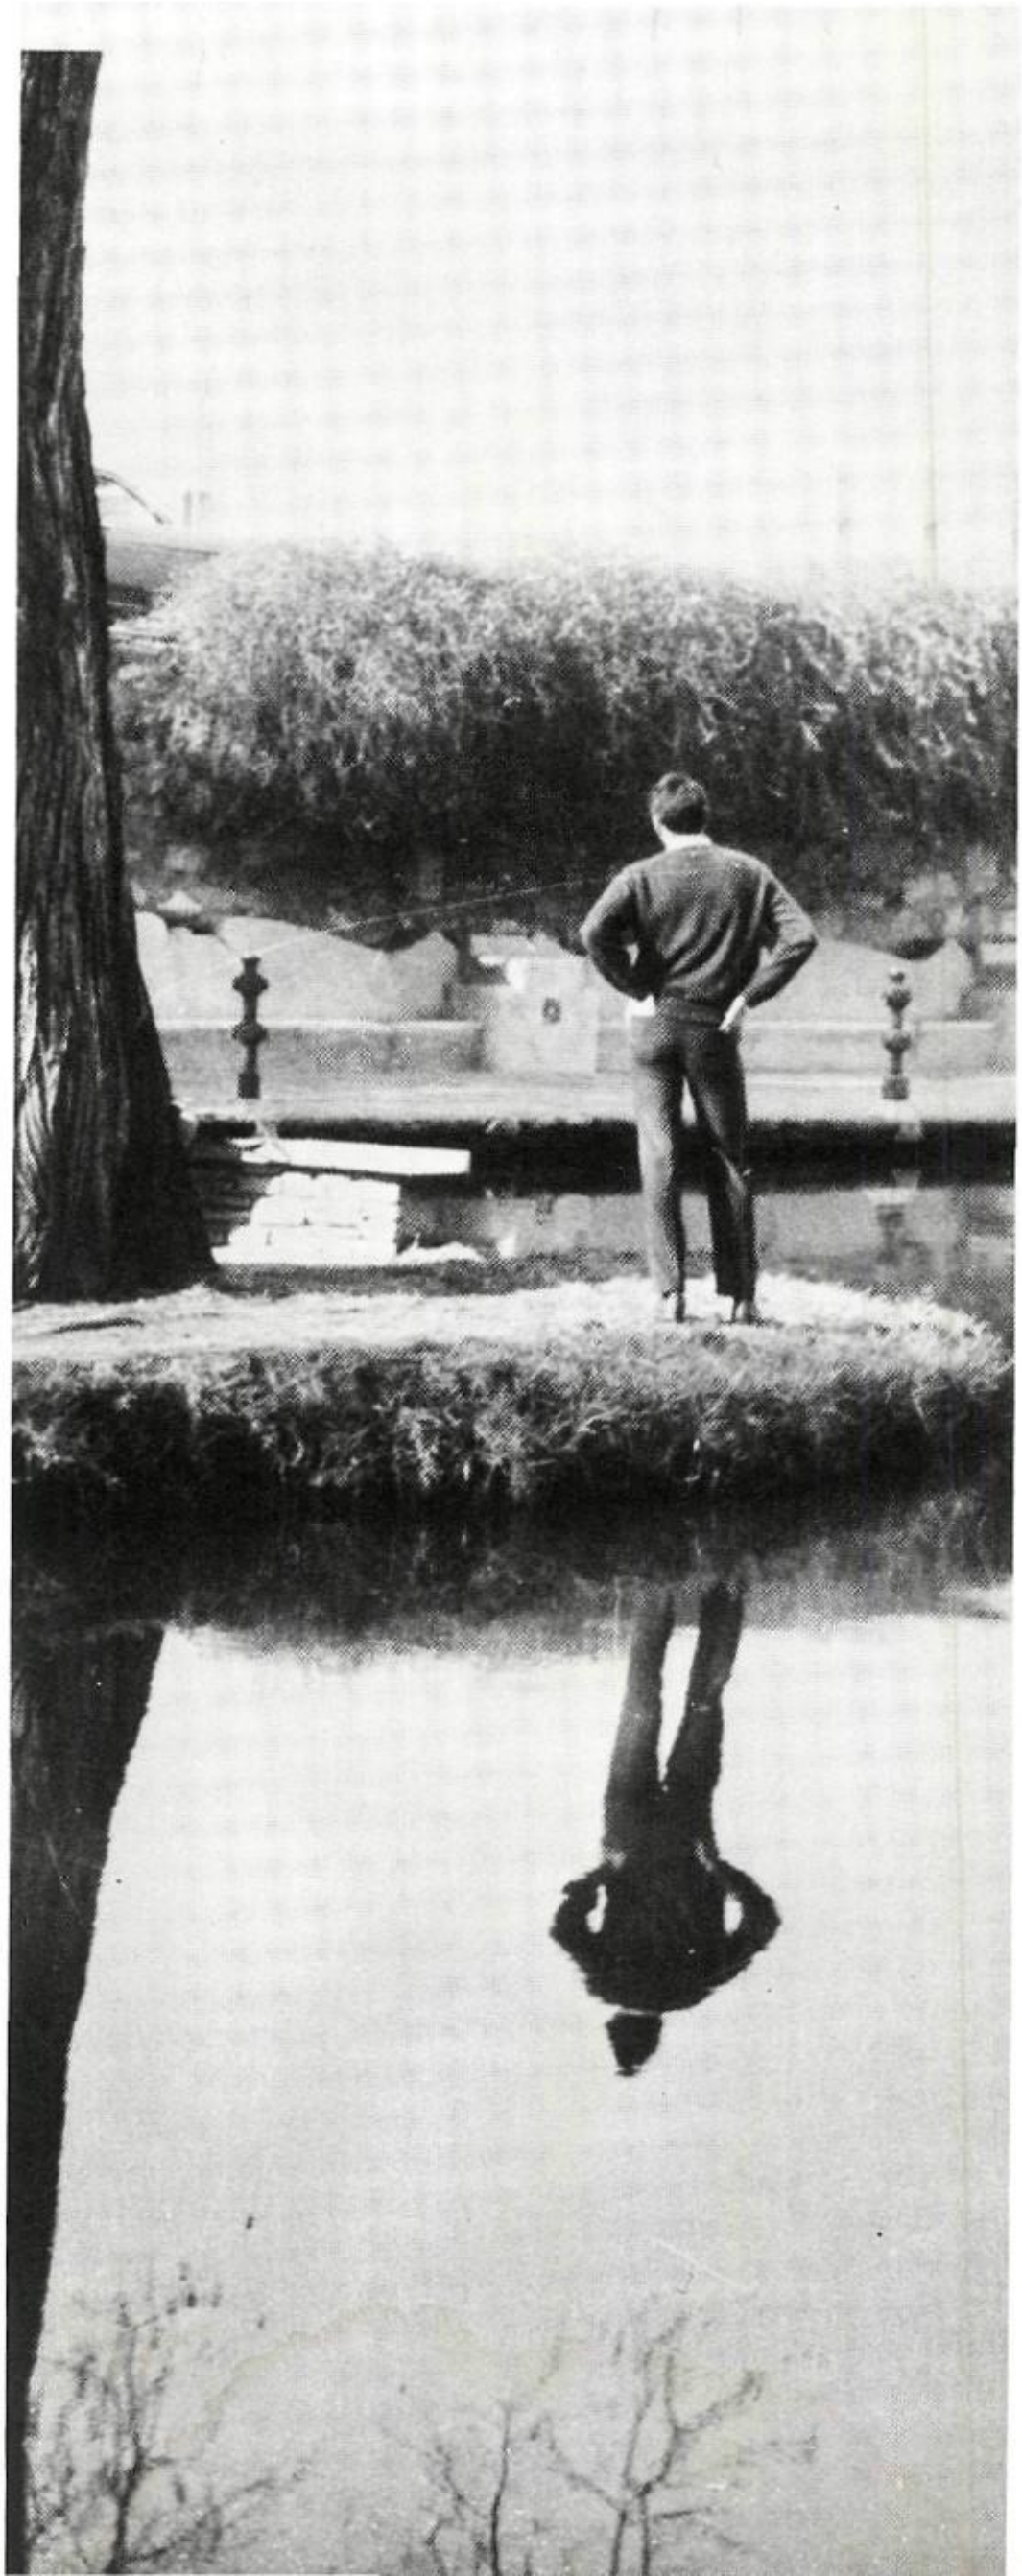
Mr. Philip E. Babel

The KEYSTONE yearbook pauses to honor a man who has been a part of Keystone for the past eight years. A man well-known, respected, and remembered by students and alumni alike, is also known to the world outside the campus. He retired from active duty in the United States Army as a Major. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in history from St. Mary's University and his Master of Arts degree from Trinity University.

On campus Mr. Babel has always been the friendly, helpful person known as "Mr. History". As sponsor of the National Honor Society, his service has been an inspiration. He has served additionally as a class sponsor every year. As testimony to his devotion to Keystone and the proper history education of its students he returned from sabbatical leave ahead of time when he was needed.

For his outstanding contributions to the building of a greater Keystone, the staff proudly dedicates this 1972 yearbook to him.

Reflections . . .
Pictured in the stillness of time
As laughter and heartbreak,
Triumph and failure–
They are mirrored
In the deep, dark waters
Of the Past.
Yet, in the Past we begin,
For Today is but a reflection–
One of all that has gone before
And of all that should come after.
So we walk cautiously
In the Present,
Sometimes glancing at the Past
To learn what has made us so.



We may talk to a friend,
Or search privately
Through pages of a book
To learn from the sea
Of past experience,
For here we will find guidelines
For the Future—
Sometimes deep and frightening,
But always beckoning
With reflections
Of hope and promise.
Thus, we live not only
In the Present.
For all that has gone before
And all that should come after
Is mirrored in our lives as
Reflections . . .
Of the Past,
In the Present,
For the Future.

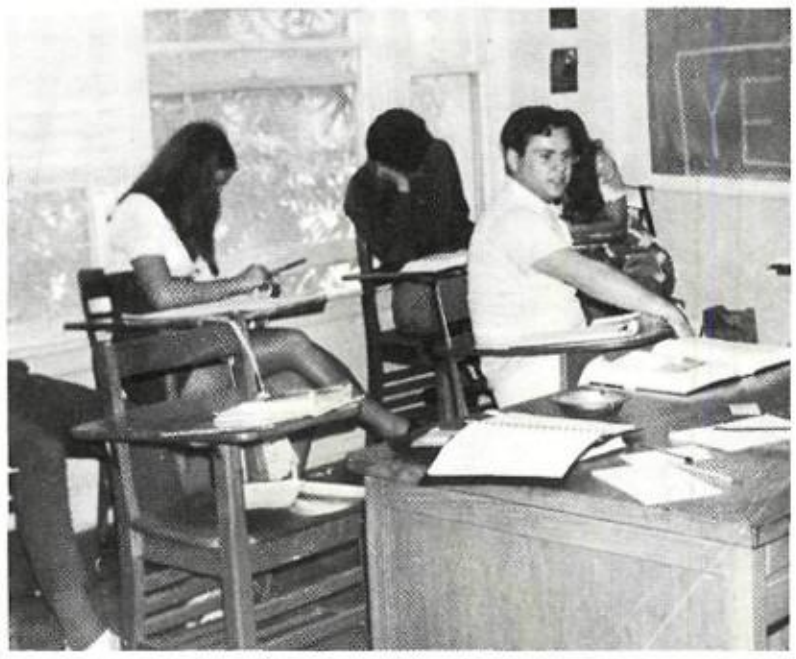
After what seemed three impossible years, the Class of '72 has finally reached the status of Senior. Their many activities under this new title include the Hush Day Ball, Halloween Haunted House, and gift wrapping at Gulf-Mart. Seniors have experienced dissecting in biology, determinants in analysis, and law-making processes in government. New experiences face them now as bright promises of the future shine ahead.



Joe Whitson and Mrs. J. Bathke discuss an important point.

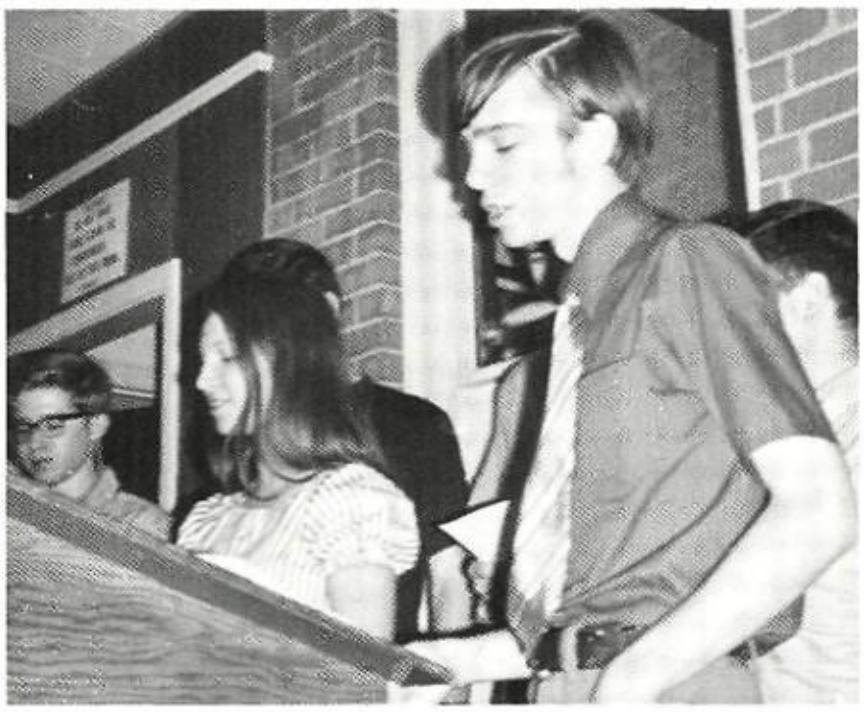
German Club Goes To T.A.C.S. Convention

German club members attended the annual Texas Association of German Students in Austin on March 17 and 18. Carols in German entertained students at the Holiday Sing-A-Long. Students also participated in the Trinity University Language Symposium and Speech Tournament.



Skip and other German club members join in German Christmas carols.

Speech Club Receives International Thespian Charter

Charter members were initiated into the International Thespian Society, a honor society for drama students, in its first year at Keystone. Acting and crew work points must be earned by students to be chosen as a member. Lighting equipment was bought and made from the proceeds of the 1971 junior-senior play and this year's fall play. A famous biographer of George Bernard Shaw, Dan H. Laurence, was one of the speech club's noted speakers this year.

French, Spanish Clubs Work On New Lab

The French club had much time to utilize their language through the year. Eight members entered Trinity University's Language Symposium this spring. The play "Le Barbier de Seville par Beaumarchais" at Our Lady of the Lake College and a banquet for fourth and third year students at a French restaurant filled the French devotees time. During Christmas members sang carols en Francaise. "La Posada" was presented at the holiday program by members of the Spanish Club. This included the traditional breaking of the pinata. Plans and work began on a language lab, initiated by the Spanish Club Other language clubs helped on this project.

Lettermen Sell Slaves, Choose J. V. Cheerleaders

Cobra Lettermen cleared $160.00 with their annual slave sale, conducted by Mr. P. Babel. Students enjoyed buying first string players and Coach L. Gill to do their bidding. Skip Mencio brought the highest bid as slave. Lettermen chose Junior Varsity cheerleaders Ava Melenzyer. Lizzie Newman and Mandy Pickett.

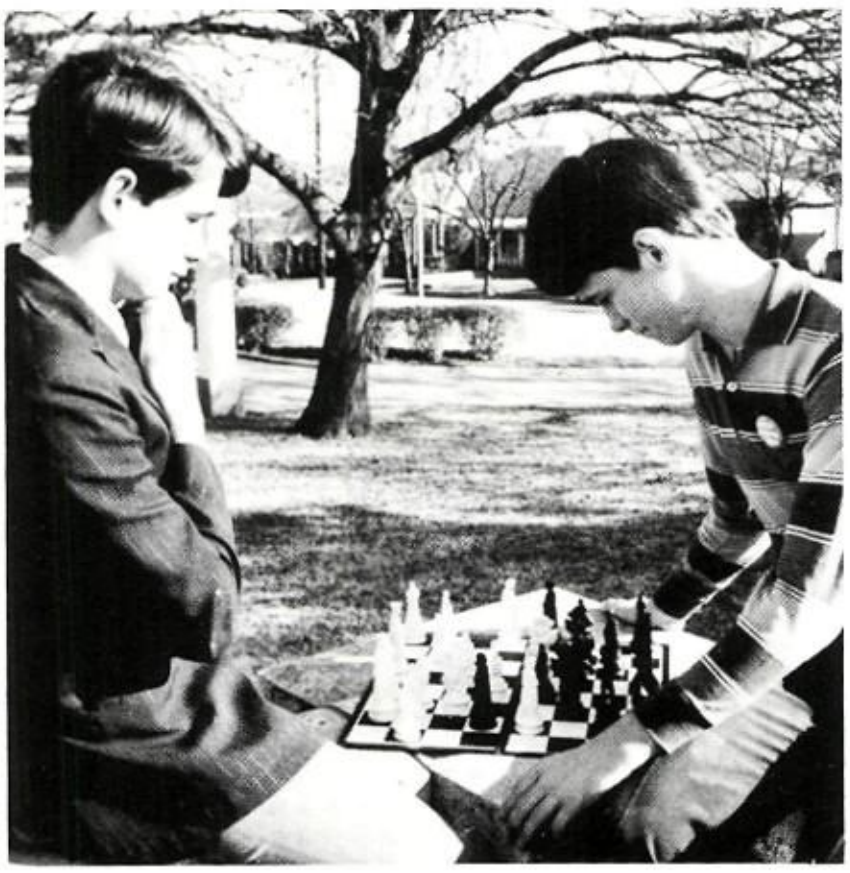
Mr. P. Babel sells an unwilling slave at the Lettermen's slave sale.



It's not who is winning the game that is important here, but whether you can decide which is David and which is Stephen.

Tournaments Fill Chessmen's Hours

This year's Chessmen, headed by Tim Tilton, enjoyed the game of kings and made a good showing in all tournaments they entered. A special honor came when they won sixth place out of twelve schools in the first tournament that they entered.

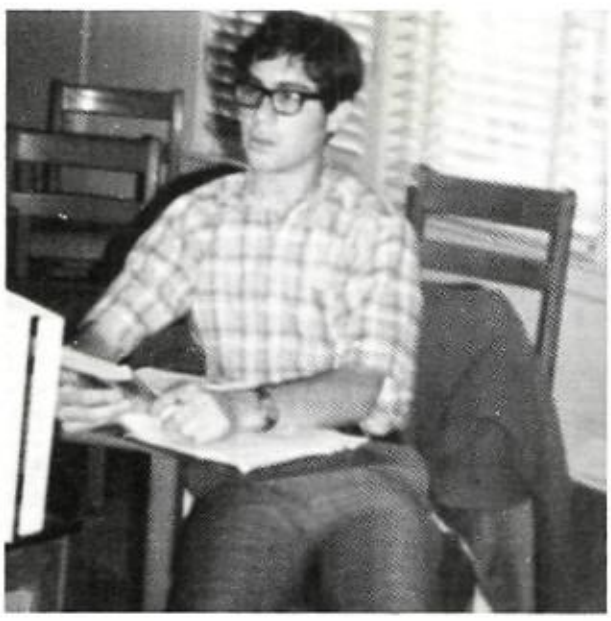
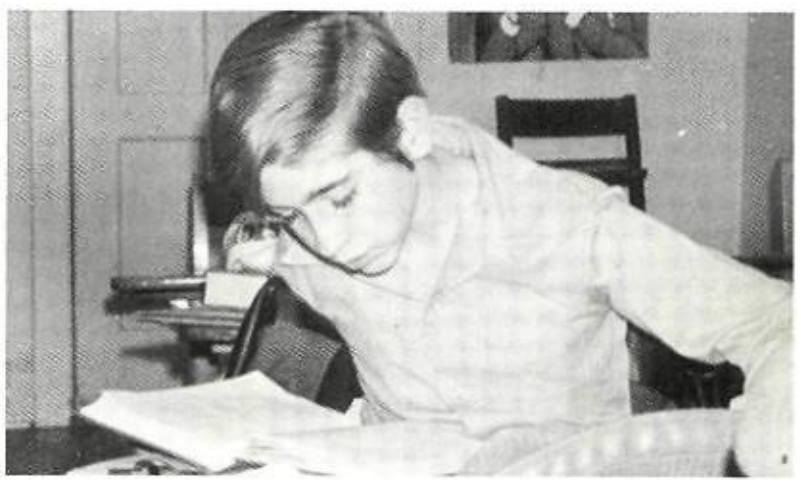
ACTIVITIES

Reflective Scholarship Is The Key

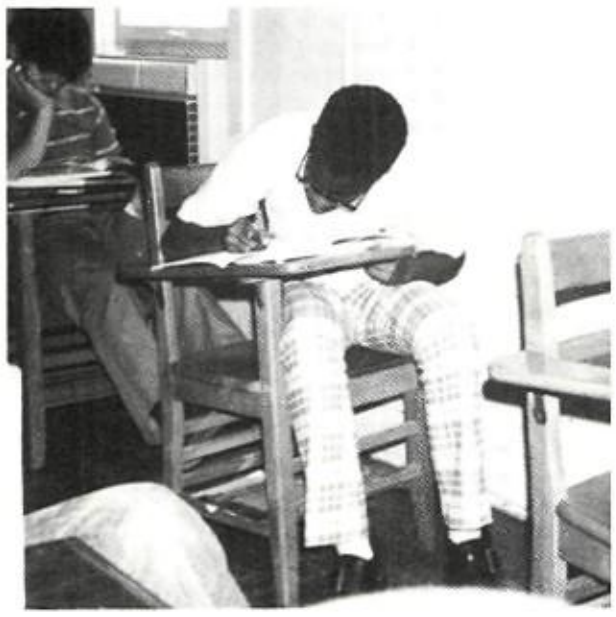


Joseph Furman listens attentively in English.

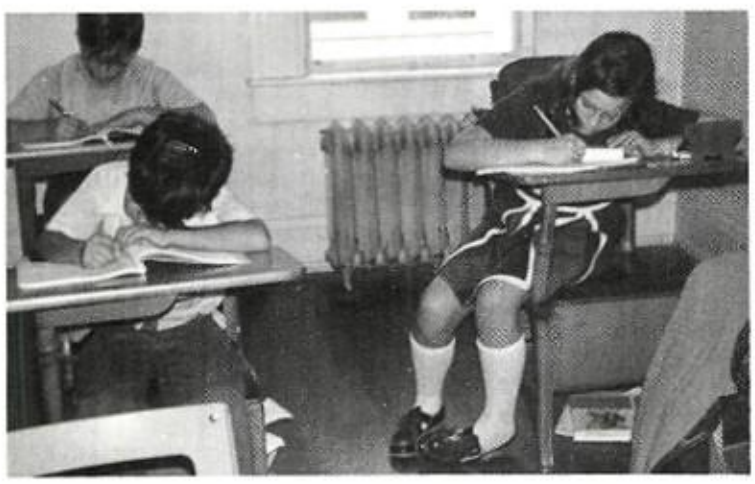


Billy Fischer skims over history books before a big "Babel" test.

Study is important to Kevin.



"Bonjour!" Madame Verstegen's French classes seem to enjoy working on a foreign language.



Industrious fourth graders finish assignments for Mrs. N. Eargle; Sixth graders Fran and Jeannie enjoy an outdoor reading session in English.

Seniors '72

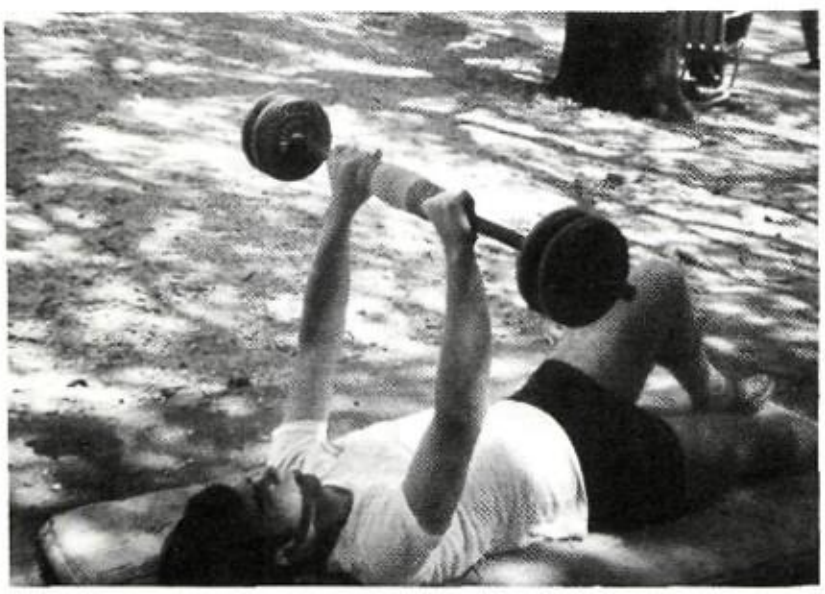
We've only just begun
To live
White lace and promises
A kiss for luck and we're on our way
And yes we've just begun.

Before the rising sun
We fly
So many roads to choose
We start out walking and learn to run.
We've only just begun.

Upper School: Final Step To The Future

Students and faculty enjoy first pep rally of the year.

Freshmen tie up Burton in a skit for English.



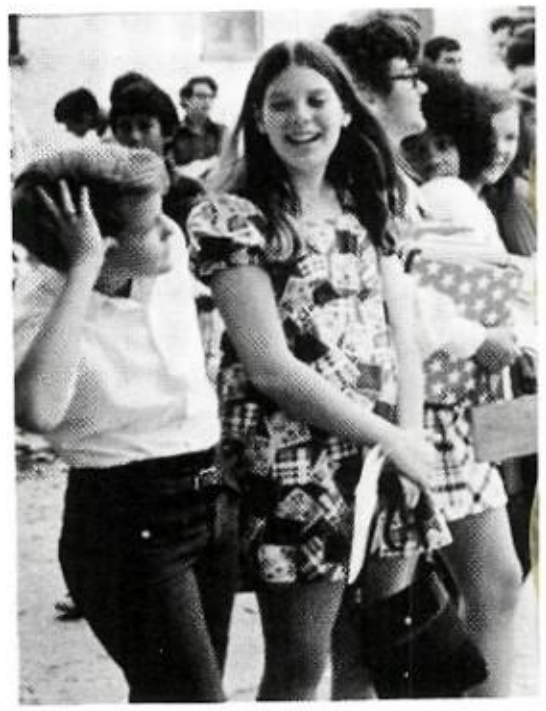
Glenn Grisham takes time away from study to work out with bar bells.

Ssh!—Don't wake up Barbette and Suzanna!

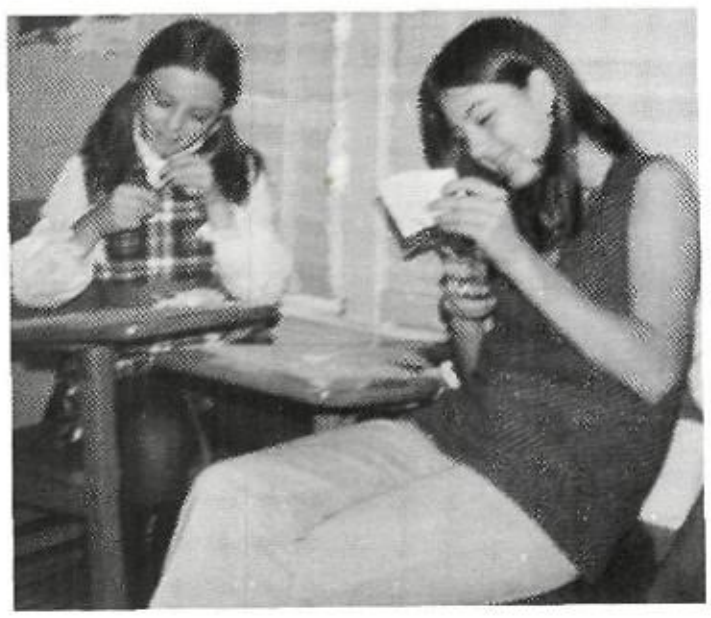
Sophomores struggle with the intracacies of English grammar in Mrs. J. Bathke's class.

No Dull Moments In Middle School

Lively eighth graders fill their time in class.



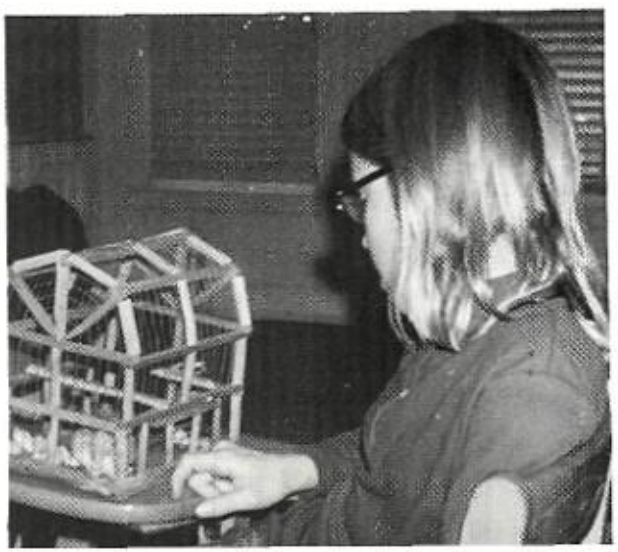
Dan and Suzie promote school spirit at pep rally.



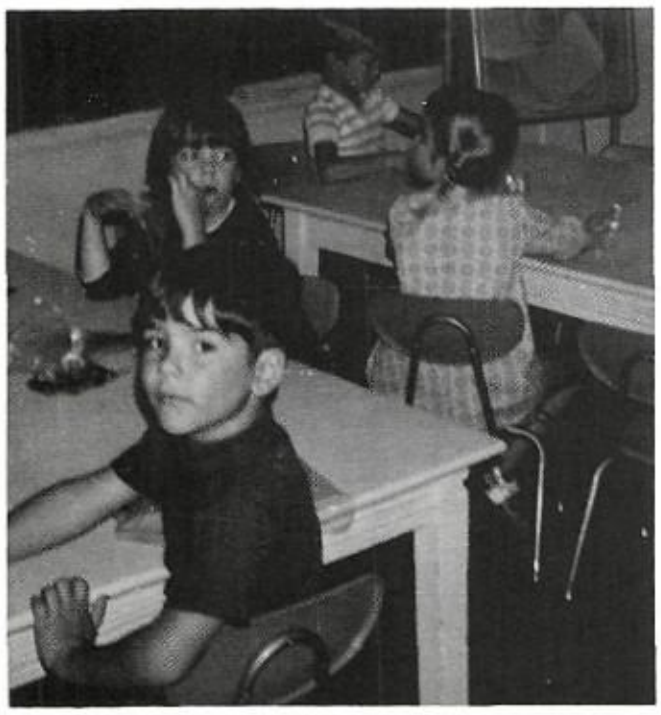
Nancy and Karen work on mythology project.

Chuck listens attentively in class.

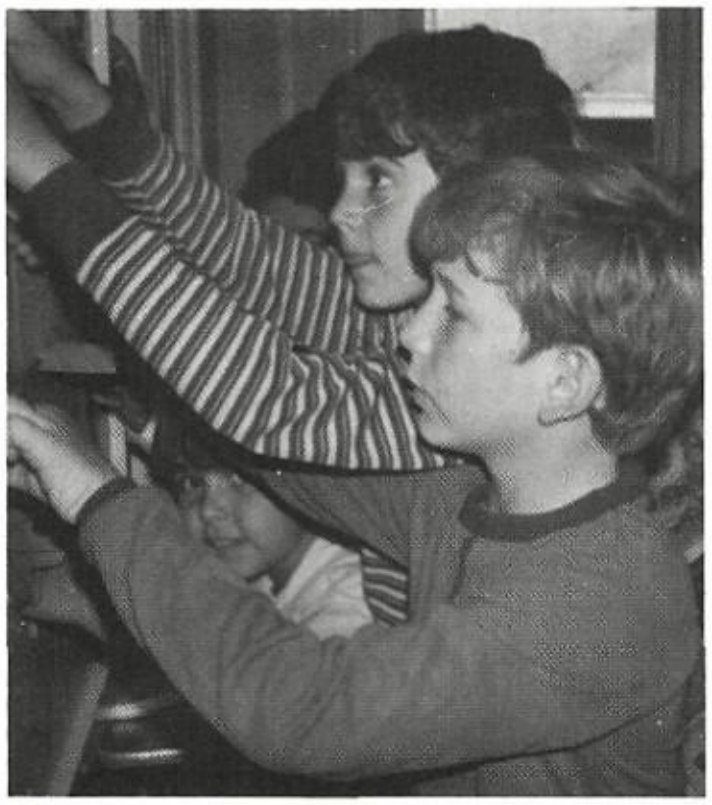
Pam takes care of her pet gerbil.



Lower School Exhibits Talents



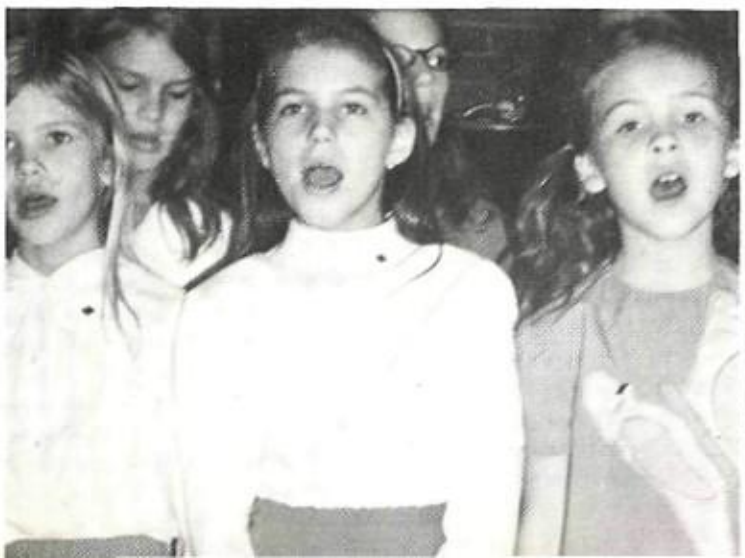
First Graders enjoy learning to count.



Chet, Leo, and Paul help decorate fourth grade class for Thanksgiving.

Sharon and Heather enjoy decorating for the festival.

Debbie colors during an art project.



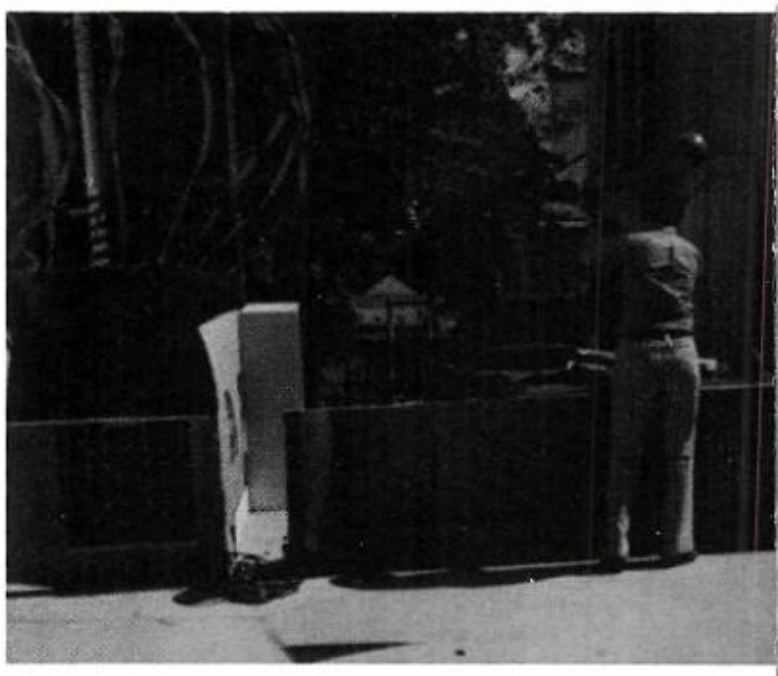
Third grade choir members display their talents at Christmas Open House.

Fall Festival Kicks Off Active Year

Decorated booths, crumpled paper, and swarms of people transformed the basketball court from its everyday appearance to its colorful dress on Fall Festival day. Activities included a Safari Throw, a Wheel of Fortune, a Go-Cart ride, and a White Elephant sale, all sponsored by the lower and middle school classes. Some of the lower school mothers sold handicrafts at their own booth. The second grade held a drawing for a stuffed toy bull named Ferdinand, which was won by Stacey Moczygemba. The school provided corn on the cob, popcorn, and cokes for tired and hungry Festival participants. Keystone owes thanks to Mrs. A. Gottlieb for acting as Festival organizer.

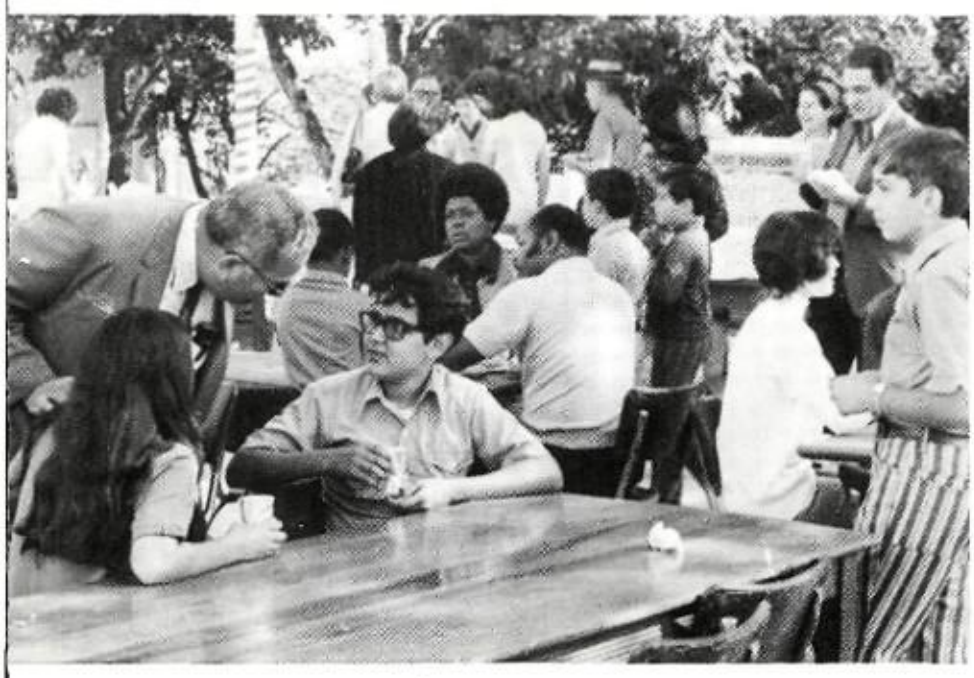
Burton, Mike, and Mr. D. Koenig carry tables to festival area.

Mrs. V. Koenig and Mr. and Mrs. A. Gottlieb sell tickets.

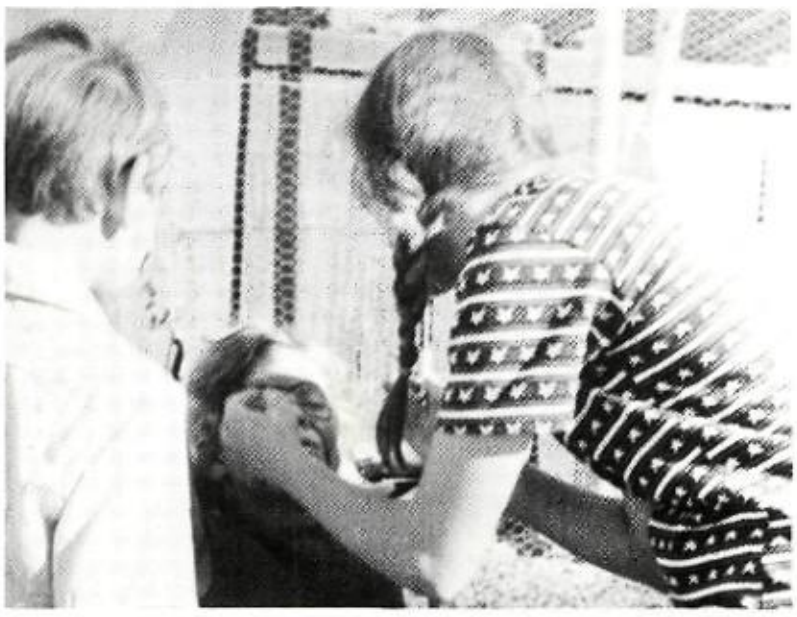


Robert helps prepare by hanging paper and balloons.

Hard Work And Fun Combine To Make A Success



Second Grade sponsors drawing for Ferdinand.



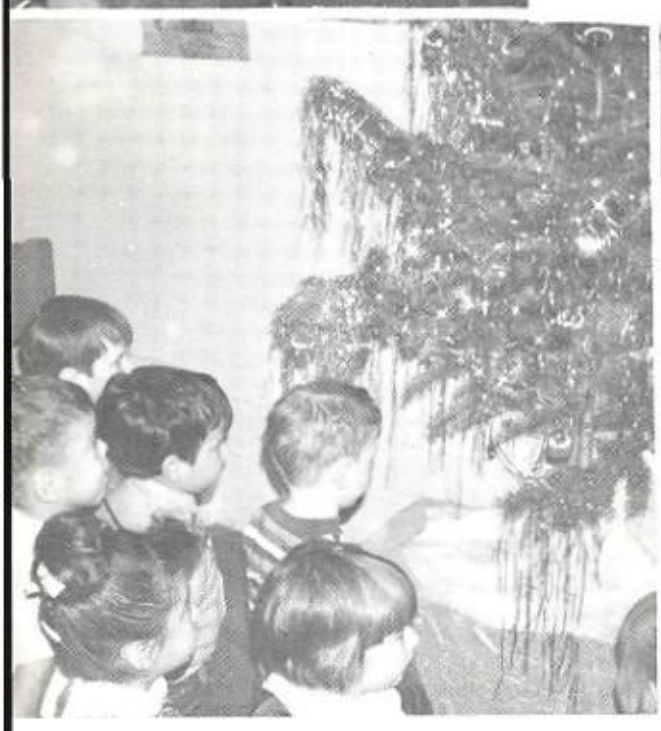
Lizzie works at make-up booth.

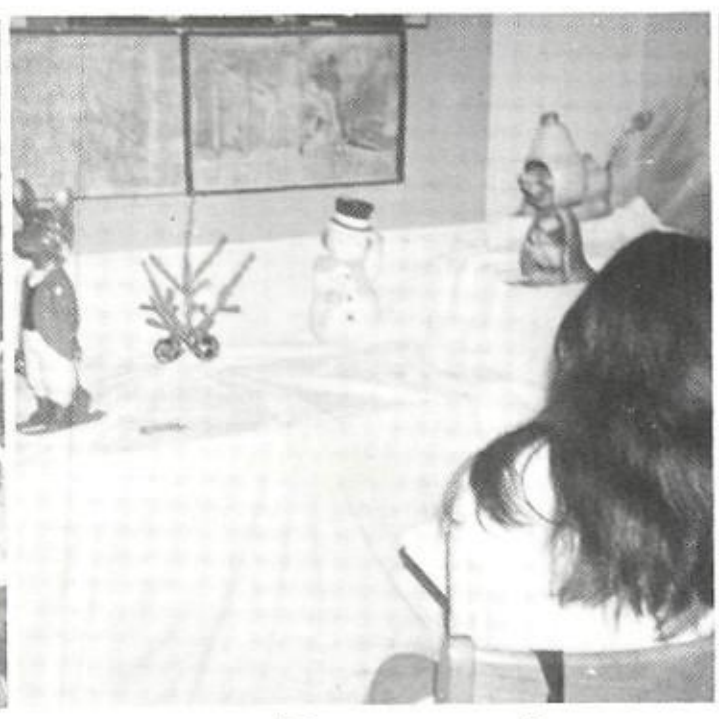
Bert enjoys his go-cart ride.

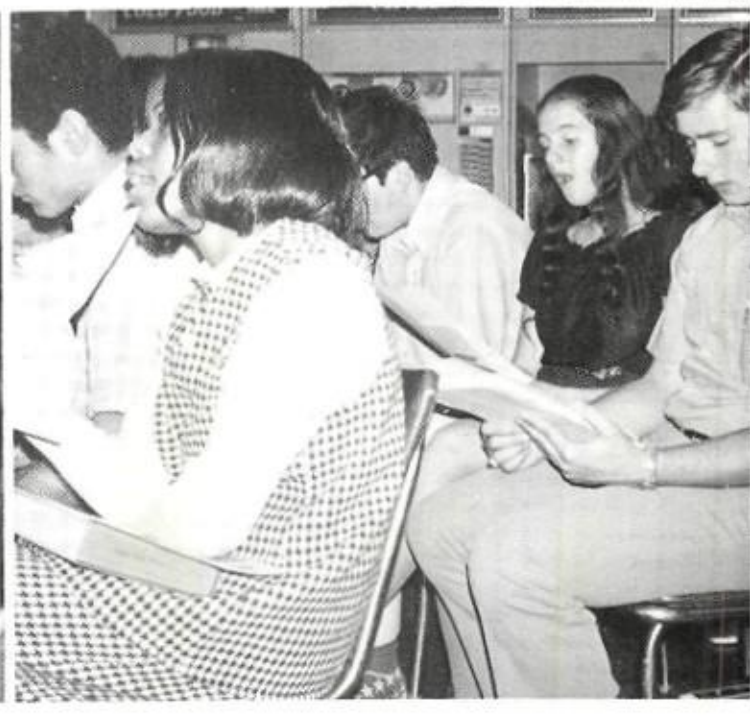
In Perfect Harmony

I'd like to buy the world a home
And furnish it with love,
Grow apple trees and honey bees
And snow white turtle doves.

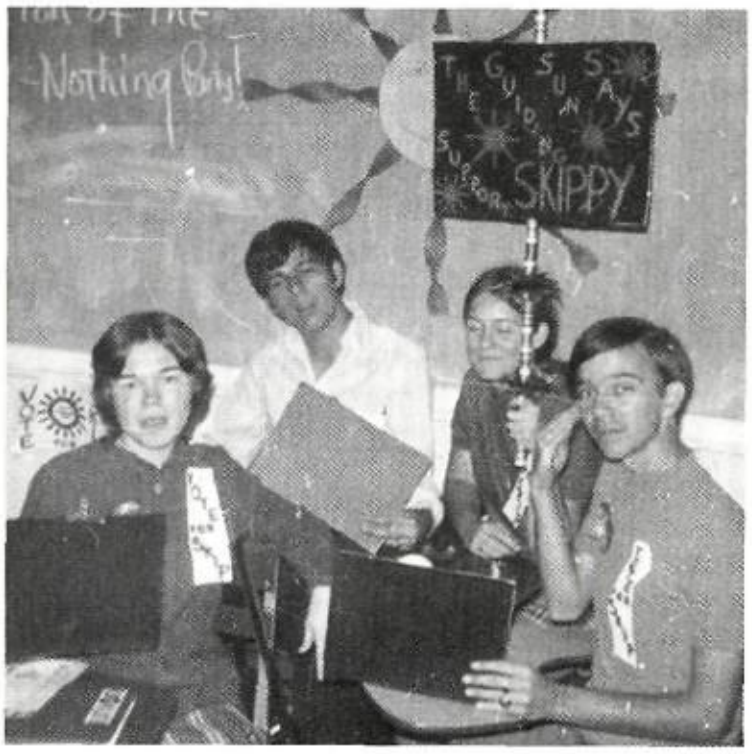
I'd like to teach the world to sing
In perfect harmony,
I'd like to hold it in my arms
And keep it company.



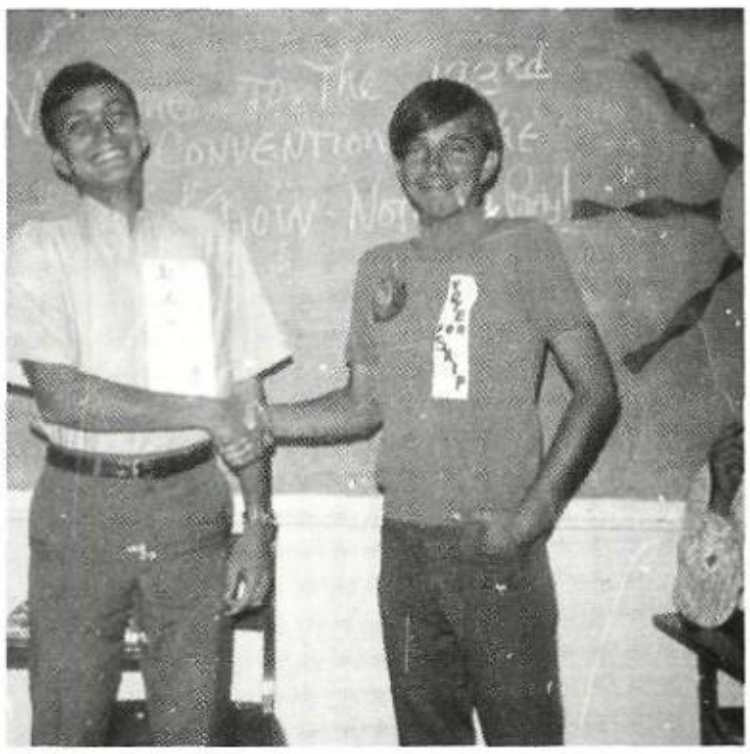




Government



Coyote Sunshine party cheers their candidate to victory.

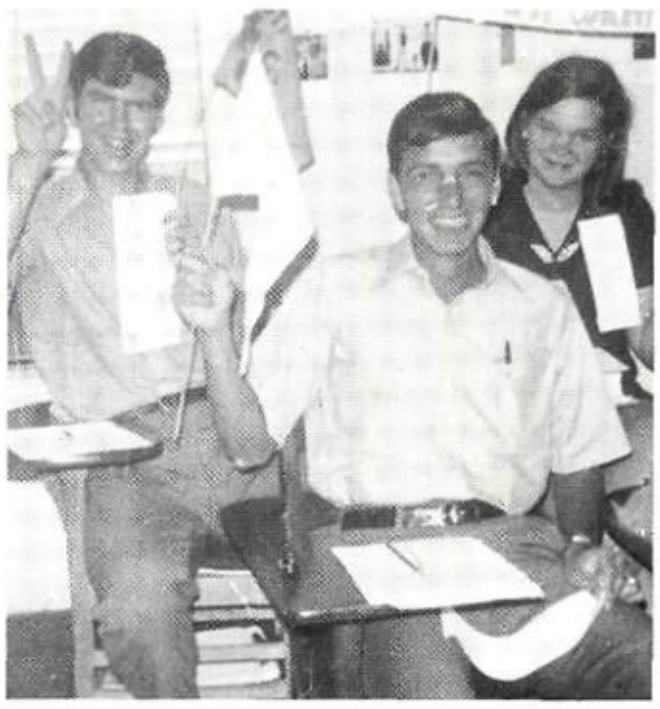


Jeff congratulates Skip for his presidential win.

The government class experimented with mock sessions of governmental functions, under supervision of Mrs. J. Bathke. A political convention was held, with the class as delegates to the states of Cornflake, Coyote Sunshine, Mint Julep, and Pig Iron. Jeff Benzaquen represented the state of Cornflake. Skip Mencio, nominee from Coyote Sunshine, was elected presidential candidate of the "Know-Nothing" Party, with Ava Melenyzer, favorite son of Pig Iron, as running mate.

A mock congressional session was held and the Hatfield-McGovern Amendment debated. All of the students were actively involved in representing states and debating. An investigating committee was formed with Fred Gibson and Mrs. S. Oppenheimer as guest speakers. Glenn Grisham was the chaplain during the sessions. The finale was a formal dinner party at the Cordts' home with guests attending as national or foreign officials. This successful gala ended an educational and fun experience.

The active class also made a trip to Austin to visit the new L.B.J. Library and the state capitol building. There the class learned more about the workings of state government.



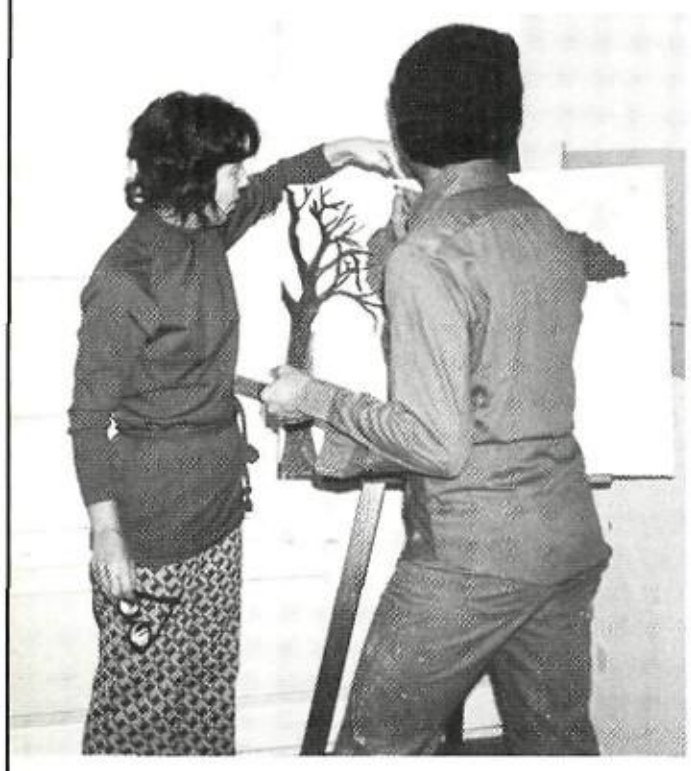
Three young aspirants for the nomination smile to gain votes.

Skip moderates the Investigating Committee of the mock Senate Session.

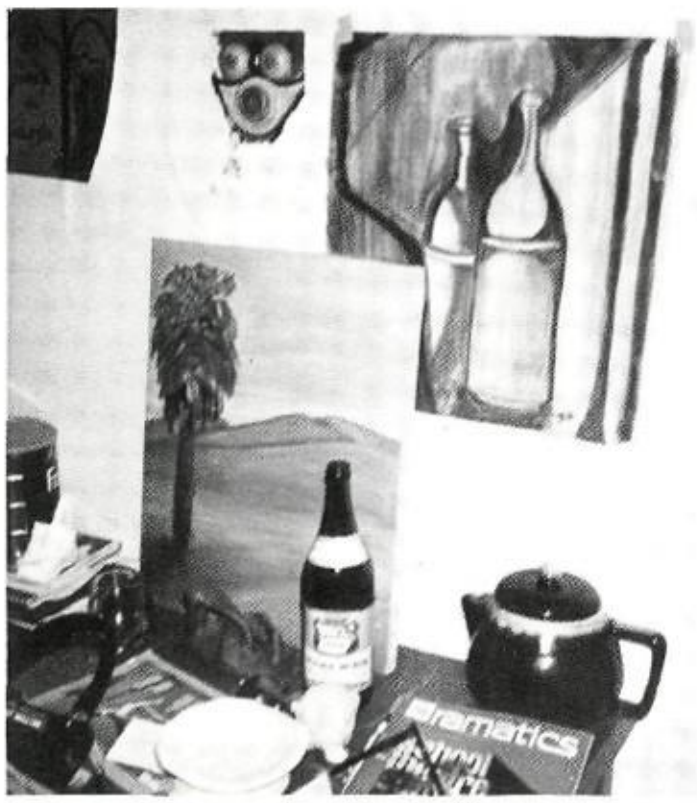
Debra Dorgan joins her friends on the tour of the capitol.

Weary but enthusiastic government students relax on the capitol steps.

Art Studies Exhibit Talent In Various Fields



Mrs. P. Mullins advises Victor in painting his landscape.



Marilyn, Dawn, and Lynda work on clay pots and vases.

Dawn puts the finishing touches on her clay cup. Stephen carves a wood block for making prints.

Speech Scenes

Success marked speech class plays and projects. In spring, '71 Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's hilarious farce "You Can't Take It With You" was presented at Trinity Baptist Amphitheatre. This fall "Spoon River Anthology" by Edgar Lee Masters was presented to parents and student body and by special invitation at McCollum High School. Cast members included Lee Lumpkin, Barb Bodager, Lynda Tussay, Skip Mencio, Kate Cordts, Lizzie Newman, Julie Hodges, Charles Mobbs, Cindy Tussay, and Stephen Wagner.

Students entered many speech meets, festivals and tournaments, including those held at Central Catholic High School, Churchill High School, Trinity University, and Roosevelt High School.

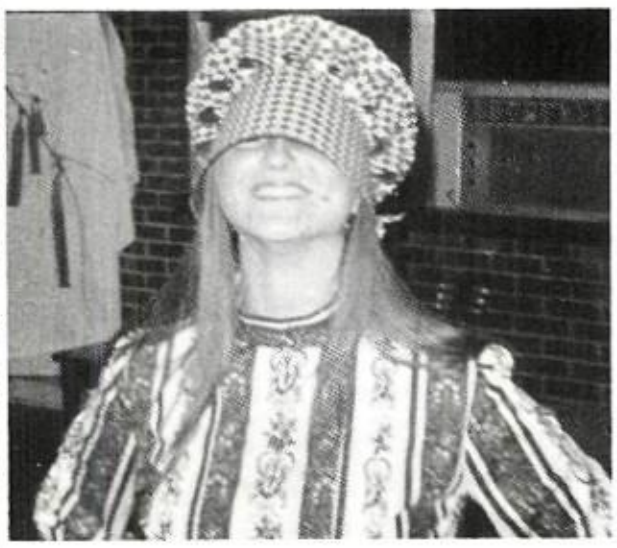
A color film project "Dead To Begin With" starring '71 and '72 speech students and edited by Stephen Wagner was completed and presented to English and speech classes.

Speech teacher and production director Mrs. J. Bathke, Mr. Mike Bathke, and art instructor Mrs. P. Mullins dedicated many hours to make these successes complete.

Thespians enter tournament.

Two scenes from the exciting performance of "The Pigeonhole Players" version of "Spoon River Anthology".

Lee and Barb enjoy a scene from "You Can't Take It With You" while Mario awaits his entrance cue backstage.



Cindy Tussay displays her unusual costume from "Spoon River Anthology".

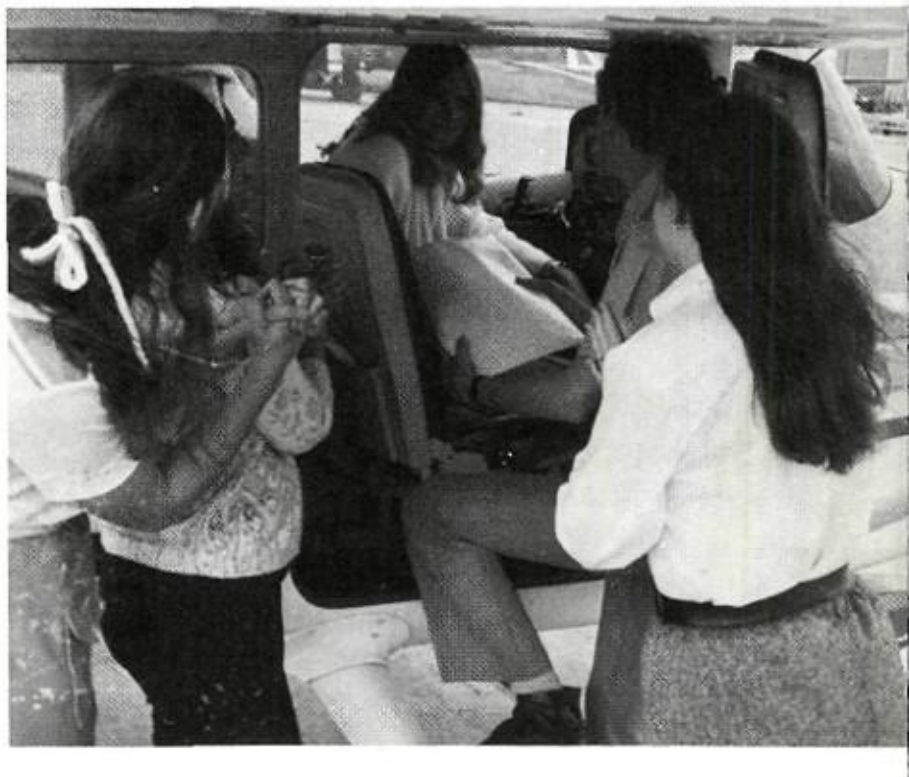
Editor, Stephen Wagner, and Associate Editor, Georgiana Gibson dedicate many hours in planning, layout, and editing.

Elizabeth Boling, artist and the ad manager Doris White reflect upon ideas for the 1972 yearbook.

Staff members and sponsor try to convince Jorja Lindgron, licensed pilot, to fly them to San Angelo printers to meet last deadline.



Although school is only a small pool through which the stream of life passes, the reflections from this pool will influence our future lives. We have asked you to combine the mirror of your mind and the magic of our camera in order to relive the sad and happy memories, the reflections of Keystone 1972, a year gone by . . .

Anita Mangold checks pages for continuity of layout.

Julianne, Elmo, and Lisa work on layouts.

Dawn and Cathy prepare copy for the government pages.

"Shut up! Robert and type!"

Ben caught in the act.
